CALL OPEN - OPEN CALL POSTPOST GALLERY FOR EXHIBITION PROJECTS WITH REALIZATION DURING 2022

Postpost gallery, a gallery in the showcase of a city underpass in the centre of Brno, announces an open call for artists, students, collectives and studios. The call is open to free installation projects, without media definition, working directly with the gallery's showcase space.

After the first phase of the gallery's operation, the project moves to the next level. Curatorially, it is going to work with a layering of approaches, reactions to the format and concept of the post-post gallery, linking them to realisations that communicate ideas, media and critiques of the present. It also intends to provide a space mediating contemporary art in the public space of the city and to support the overall production and re-installation abilities of works by both established and emerging artists/authors.

Proposals will be selected from the projects, with implementation tentatively scheduled for the first half of 2022. Results will be announced on Postpost Gallery's Facebook page and via email.

The gallery will provide space, curatorial and production coverage of the projects, photo documentation and collaboration in the realization of the installation. It is also open to proposals for an expanding accompanying programme.
